Parent/Coach Relationship

Both parenting and coaching are extremely difficult vocations. By establishing an understanding of each position, we are better able to accept the actions of the other and provide greater benefit to our students. As parents, when your child becomes involved in our athletic program, you have the right to understand what expectations are placed on your child. This begins with clear communication from the coach of your child.

Communication you should expect from your Child's coach

1. Philosophy of coach
2. Expectations the coach has for your child as well as all the players on the squad.
3. Location and time of all practices and contests.
4. Team requirements, i.e. fundraising, special equipment, off-season conditioning.
5. Procedure should your child be injured during participation.
6. End of the year banquets/awards

Communication Coaches Expect from Parents

1. Concerns expressed directly to the coach.
2. Notification of any schedule conflicts well in advance

Appropriate Concerns to Discuss with Coaches.

1. Treatment of your child mentally and physically.
2. Ways to help your child improve.
3. Concerns about your child's behavior.

It is very difficult to accept that your child is not playing as much as you hope. Coaches are professionals. They make judgments based on what they believe to be best for all students involved. As you have seen from the list above, certain things can be and should be discussed with your child's coach. Other things must be left to the discretion of the coach.

Issues Not Appropriate to Discuss With Coaches.

1. Playing Time
2. Team Strategy
3. Play Calling
4. Other student-athletes

There are often situations that may require a conference between the coach and the parents. The student/athlete will be invited and involved in these meetings. To resolve the problem, we must have everyone's help and involvement. These meetings are encouraged.

If there is a concern:

Have your son or daughter talk to the coach one-on-one. This is the process of growing up and taking personal responsibility. If this does not resolve the problem, the parent should:

*Call to set up an appointment with the coach.

* If the coach cannot be reached, call the Director of Athletics, George Smith at (916) 683-7670 ext. 3006.

* Please do not attempt to confront a coach before or after a contest or practice. These can be emotional times for both the parent and the coach. Meetings of this nature usually do not promote resolution.

The next step-

What can a parent do if the meeting with the coach did not provide a satisfactory resolution?

*Call and set up an appointment with the Director of Athletics to discuss the situation.

* At this meeting the appropriate next step can be determined.
